Summary of Adjudication Tribunal Decision

IN THE MATTER OF: Sherri Hunt, Medical Laboratory Technologist (Respondent)

In a written decision, dated June 16, 2022, an Adjudication Tribunal of the Newfoundland and Labrador Council of Health Professionals (NLCHP) found the Respondent guilty of conduct deserving of sanction pursuant to the Act.

An allegation was filed by the Quality Assurance Committee against the registrant on December 3, 2021 for failure to participate in the Quality Assurance audit for continuing education.

The Adjudication Tribunal found the Respondent, guilty of conduct deserving of sanction, specifically professional misconduct, pursuant to section 34(c)(i) of the Act in:

- Failing or refusing to comply with the requirements of the continuing competence program.

The Tribunal ordered as follows:

- (a) The Respondent is required to successfully complete, at her own expense, an education module(s), agreed upon by the NLCHP and the Respondent. The Respondent will have until March 31, 2023 to complete the agreed upon course(s).
- (b) The Respondent is required to write a reflection on the need for and importance of continuing education, practice currency and ongoing competence for Medical Laboratory Technologists as well as accountability and responsibilities as a regulated health professional.
- (c) The Respondent is required to pay costs of $5,000.00 given the considerable expenses incurred by the NLCHP in resolving this matter.
- (d) The Respondent is fined $2,500.00.
- (e) The Registrar shall publish a summary of the complaint and its resolutions on the NLCHP website.
